

The implementation of the broadcast flag would in effect remove the right of the consumers which was won in the court case in the 80's that gave the consumers the right to record TV programs to VCR's. In time all broadcasting will eventually move to digital. And if the broadcast flag is in effect, then the consumers will have had one of their right effectivley revoked from them.